

POETRY

“SPARKING JOY” - FOR DEVON

Dale Mosher

Pull the books from their cases.

Pile the clothes in a room.

Peel the photos from their places.

Unspool yarn from the loom.

There is joy in this array,

Empty your cluttered mind.

Dispel plenty or a few.

Jigsaw pieces that you find will settle into view.